War Horse Concert

Fri 10 November, 19:30

In this very special concert, Michael Morpurgo retells an abridged version of War Horse accompanied by Ben Murray, with music and songs from the National Theatre production (which Ben also starred in as the Songman).

War Horse is one of Michael Morpurgo's most beloved books. Told from the perspective of a young farm horse, Joey, it follows his story as he is taken from the fields of Devon to the Western Front and all the people he encounters along the way. Set in 1914, young Joey is sold to the British army and thrust into the midst of the war. With his officer, he charges towards the enemy, witnessing the horror of the frontline. But even in the desolation of the trenches, Joey's courage touches the soldiers around him.

*Tickets: Adults £22, Children £12
(Including £2 booking fee per ticket)

TALK:Aphra Behn – Playwright, Poet, Spy

Tues 3 October, 14:30

Born in Harbledown in 1640, it's probably fair to say that not much would have been expected from Eaffry Johnson. Who could have predicted she would travel, survive the Great Plague, become a spy, start writing, and, after dying at the height of her success, be buried at Westminster Abbey – and then become almost entirely forgotten until the early 20th Century?

£10 per person (£8 Friends of Canterbury Cathedral), includes tea and coffee on arrival.

TALK:Tudor Canterbury – From Catholic to Protestant

Tues 10 October, 10:30

What was it like to live through the momentous religious changes of the 16th Century in Canterbury? In this talk, Doreen Rosman, former lecturer at the University of Kent, will explore local conflicts to which changing government policy gave rise.

£10 per person (£8 Friends of Canterbury Cathedral), includes tea and coffee on arrival.

TALK:Jan Van Eyck's Mystic Lamb

Thurs 9 November, 14:30

The Ghent Altarpiece, or 'The Adoration of the Mystic Lamb' by Jan Van Eyck, completed in 1432, is recognised worldwide as a great work of art, and one of the most influential paintings ever made. But what is the real story behind this painting that was once ransomed for 1 million Belgian francs? Brenda Tate-Loverly, former Open University lecturer and Friend, will unpack the complex imagery, and explain what makes this possibly the most important altarpiece in Northern European art.

£10 per person (£8 Friends of Canterbury Cathedral), includes tea and coffee on arrival.

TALK: Setting it Out – Stone Masonry at Canterbury Cathedral

Wed 29 November, 10:30

Cathedral masons Emlyn Harris and Benn Swinfield will talk to Friends about the work of our stone masons. They will explain about the team of artists, sculptors, heavy labourers, and technicians whose combined heritage skills have looked after our Cathedral for the last 1,400 years and whose expertise will ensure that it will still be here in the 31st Century and beyond. £10 per person (£8 Friends of Canterbury Cathedral), includes tea and coffee on arrival.

TALK: Prior Wibert's Wonderous Waterworks

Mon 4 December, 11:30

Friend Dick Bolton will speak to Friends about the goings on in the Priory in circa 1160 which led to the development of a water system that rivalled anything else in the rest of Europe and which, at the time, served to make our Cathedral gardens an earthly vision of Paradise. £10 per person (£8 Friends of Canterbury Cathedral), includes tea and coffee on arrival.
