Water Tower Toilets

Please do not use the toilets in the Water Tower before, during, or after sung services in the cathedral unless you are on duty during that service as a member of staff or volunteer. This is because these are the toilets used by the choristers and our duty of safeguarding means that we need to be assured that anyone in the Water Tower has the necessary checks to ensure the safety of all members of the Cathedral Community. We also need to reduce the use of this toilet as there are often bottlenecks in the Water Tower.

The public toilets in the Precincts are available for use at any time during opening hours, and there are also toilets near reception in Cathedral Lodge if the public toilets are for any reason unavailable.

Post Eucharist Drinks today

Contrary to the Order of Service, drinks after the service will be in the Clagett Auditorium.

Sacred Resonance: Reimagining Christian Iconography at Canterbury Cathedral - Cathedral Lodge Common Room with viewing of the icons in the Eastern crypt from 3pm.

In conversation with curator Jacqueline Cresswell, exploring Muraire's series of paintings showing religious iconography through a contemporary lens, currently displayed in the Eastern Crypt of Canterbury Cathedral. The works depict familiar icons and stories from the Bible in new modern guises. Cresswell writes: 'Muraire's paintings encourage individuals, regardless of their background or beliefs, to contemplate their own personal journeys. The stripped-down imagery acts as a mirror, reflecting the viewers' doubts, vulnerabilities, hopes, and longings for connection.' Entrance Free. Refreshments provided. For more information contact Jonathan Arnold, Professor of Faith, Culture, and the Arts: jarnold@diocant.org

Silent Vigil for Peace in the Middle East on Sunday June 28 13:00-13:45 in the Buttermarket, Canterbury

The war in the Middle East continues to cause terrible suffering ; now not only in Israel and Gaza but also Lebanon and Iran, and fuelling antisemitism and islamophobia in our own country amongst people who confuse religion and ethnicity with the actions of Governments and political organisations. If this disturbs you as it does us then please join us.

The purpose of the vigil is to stand up for mutual peace, justice and respect for people of all creeds and nationalities. So, we are asking people not to bring flags or partisan symbols. Our hope is that by showing a peaceful and united approach that brings people of different faiths and none together we can show our solidarity with each other against bigotry and against the ongoing destruction of so many lives.

In previous vigils people have held up photographs of people who have been killed or imprisoned. We will have some of these again but you are welcome to bring your own.

We need approximate numbers to inform the police of our plans, so please email peter-toon@aol.com if you plan to take part in the vigil

Makers, Rulers and Leaders: Celebrating the Women of Canterbury Cathedral

Our summer theme, Makers, Rulers and Leaders, is a season dedicated to uncovering and celebrating the remarkable women who shaped the Cathedral's past. For more than fourteen centuries, the Cathedral has risen above the city like a great stone chronicle, its towers etched with triumphs, trials, and transformations. Pilgrims, Kings, Archbishops, rebels, poets; all have walked its worn paths. Woven through these grand narratives is a strong resilient thread: the legacy of women whose influence, devotion, creativity, and courage have guided the Cathedral's evolution in ways both subtle and bold. This summer, we invite visitors to step into their stories and discover these figures who helped shape one of England's most iconic sacred spaces.

This year's programme brings focus to three women whose stories reveal the depth and diversity of Canterbury's past - Archbishop Sarah, Queen Bertha and Queen Elizabeth I.
